

Bye...Bye...Bi??? Written by: Brett P. Patterson

Why do some men/women think it is OK to be this way??? Well, let me tell you from a gay mans point of view; it is not cute at all. I'm not hating on those who are this way. Believe me I have been with a few, but it is hard to start a relationship with one when they still sleep next to there girlfriends/boyfriends. To me, it is greedy - you want your cake and eat it to. We don't need another big headed bother/sister at the end of the table thinking he/she is all that and a bag of chips. E. Lynn Harris explains it best in his book Invisible Life (READ IT). He went from straight to BI to gay because he realized that he was lying to himself and to the people who loved him the most... his family. The only person you need to please in society is the person that is inside you that wants to be free.

People think the word Bi-sexual is safe because there not gay or straight. But if count up your sexual experiences and one out weighs that other you're not Bi-sexual, you're just sleeping around with too many people and that is not a good thing that's how diseases are spread. We were all raised to be who we are and not to be ashamed or afraid of our sex, religion and beliefs. I'm just one of those people that are tired of getting played with and so are other people in the gay community. We're not gay because it is the "thing" to do; we are because we know what we want out of life; a person that cares for us and does not want to be with any other man or women, just us only. Why should I or any other male/female have to worry about there man/woman's eyes wandering and if he/she is going to leave me for a man/woman? My thing is, if you don't want me, get rid of me. I don't need you in my life if I can't trust you no more than I can throw you.

Then we have the dummies that say "I was drunk, it did not count" or "a mouth is a mouth it does not matter I will take what I can get" that makes me upset...people grow up! If you can do it drunk, you can do it sober. Don't blame the alcohol because you let your true color show for one night. If you're one of those people who want to do it one time with the same sex that's cool but don't double dip. If you have been there, done it, did not like it, move on. Don't go back unless you know this time it can change you forever. But being Bi-sexual does not make you more accepted in today's society; you're either gay or straight. Hello?! Gay people have there own shows and we are on TV every week making people laugh there butt off.

I'm not writing this to make anyone mad. But this is how it is in my world and others. Im young, but Im wise beyond my years I call things before it happen. So let me leave you with a few sayings that I and a few others were raised on "what comes around goes around" and "you don't know what happens behind close doors" so please think about what I had said to you.

This is Brett P. Patterson for Mija Magazine letting you know if you need advise or something is bothering you. Write me. I will love to write about it and help you have a better insight into the gay lifestyle.

Feel free to email me at askmijo@mijamagazine.com